Suggested summary documents

The UK Alzheimer's Disease Society has a number of useful documents on its Web site <http://www.alzheimers.org/uk>, as does the UK-based Web site emental-health.com. Information about Alzheimer's can be found at:

<http://www.emental-health.com/alzheimer.htm>.

The US National Institute of Neurological Disorders and Stroke has an excellent 'mini-information sheet' that provides clear answers to the most frequently-asked questions such as 'What is Alzheimer's disease?', 'Is there any treatment?' and 'What is the prognosis?'. This document is available at: http://www.ninds.nih.gov/health\_and\_medical/disorders/alzheimers\_disease\_doc.htm.

For a more detailed overview, the resources at the Alzheimer's Disease Education and Referral (ADEAR) Center's Web site <http://www.alzheimers.org/> can be consulted.
